A Never-Failing Way to Banish Ugly Hairs

(Aids to Beauty)

No woman is immune to superfluous growths, and because these are likely to appear at any time, it is advisable to always have some depilatory powder handy to use when the occasion arises. A paste is made with some of the powder and water and spread upon the hairy surface; in about 2 minutes this is carefully removed and the skin washed. You will then find that your skin is entirely free from hair or fuzz. Be sure, however, to get real depilatory—Adv.

CABOT

Sudden Death of Albert C. Ainsworth, an Exemplary Man in Community.

Seldom have our townspeople been shocked as on last Thursday afternoon, when the sad news spread through valley and over hills, that one of our most respected citizens had passed away after but a few hours of serious illness and intense suffering, aged 54 years. About 12 o'clock Wednesday night he was taken very suddenly ill and continued to grow worse until a physician was summoned at daylight, who pronounced it a severe case of gravel. A council of doctors was held in the afternoon, whose every effort proved unavailing, and he was released by death at 2:30 p. m. Thursday.

Albert C. Ainsworth was born in Hardwick May 3, 1864, the only son of Milo and Nancy Johnson Ainsworth. At the age of 16 he came with his widowed mother and sister to live on a farm a few miles north of the upper village. When a young man he suffered a fall which so injured his back that he was never able afterward to do hard labor. Twenty-eight years ago they sold their farm and came to the upper village, where he worked in a shop owned by J. A. Farrington, which later was burned down. After being rebuilt, Mr. Ainsworth, in company with Frank Paquin, purchased the shop and for the past 13 years have worked in company. When a boy he showed a talent for carpentry and cabinet work and was a fine machinist. As he advanced in years, this talent developed to such a degree that his work spoke for itself.

After the death of his mother, he was united in marriage on July 20, 1895, with Miss Nellie Nichols, to whom he has been a kind, indulgent husband, never turning a deaf ear to any necessary wants in sickness or health. In 1901 he joined the Congregational church and had since been a faithful and worthy member. In every room there can be seen some article of his handiwork, and nearly all done free of expense. For the past 12 years he has served as usher; nearly every Sunday found him at his post, unless detained by illness. He severed his connection with the I. O. O. F. about four years ago, after being a member for 20 years. He was also a member of the I. O. G. T. in his younger days. As a man, he was a living example for the rising generation to pattern after, being upright and honest in all his dealings, ever ready with a pleasant greeting for everyone, combined with his kindly and genial ways. It may well be said, "He died without an enemy," ready and willing to obey the Master's call, "Come up higher."

Besides his lonely companion, he leaves a sister, Mrs. Julia Shaw, in South Vermont, Mass., and an aunt, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, in East Hardwick. Funeral services were held in the Congregational church Saturday afternoon, Rev. M. W. Hale speaking comforting words to the afflicted ones, from the text, "What I do thou knowest not now but thou shalt know hereafter." A quartet sang two selections, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The beautiful flowers that rested upon the casket from relatives and neighbors were but tokens of love and esteem for the departed and sympathy to the bereaved ones. Those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Hornbrook of Montpelier, and Mrs. Ruth Johnson of Hardwick. His remains were placed in the family lot in Cabot cemetery.

SOUTH RANDOLPH

Corp. Everett Morrill Wounded Seven Times Within Two Hours.

J. C. Greene has received the following letter from Corp. Everett D. Morrill, which is reported that others may read his interesting account of happenings at the front.

"I have been going to write you and Mr. Loomis ever since I have been over here, and now if nothing interrupts me I will try and make good. Everything went finely with me until we started our drive at Chateau Thierry and then they got me. I was at Belleau Woods and got mine on July 20 in the arch of my right foot. A machine gun bullet went through the first two bones. About two hours after that I got it again, and this time from a high explosive shell that landed about 10 feet from me. I got six pieces of the cast iron junk that trip, but only two of them amounted to anything. One little piece hit me over the left eye, one on my right cheek, two on one of my toes and one of the big pieces went through the same foot that was already hit, from top to bottom, coming out the back of my foot, and the other one piece hit me in the outside of my left ankle and came out near my knee on the inside. It broke the small bone up considerably, but I can walk on it all right now.

"I have got to have both wounds opened up again when I get back to the states, but I won't mind that so much as I did over here, for I will have home. I have been in three different hospitals in the five months that I have been in them and now I am in a base hospital on my way home. I have been here ten days, but expect to leave at any time now.

"You probably have got a pretty good idea of this country and the way they farm from letters published in the farmers' papers. I saw quite a lot of them when I got here, and I will tell you what I saw. Last March we stopped in one place four days and they were doing their spring work then, so of course I was out watching them, and one fellow was ploughing with horses, so I asked him to let me try it and he thought it very funny that I knew how. Their ploughs are a little different from ours. They can't turn them, they have to plough around and around the piece. They also have two big wheels. Instead of one, at the end of the beam.

"The pictures I am sending are not very good, but will show you I am still kicking and not starving to death. By the way, I only weigh 186 pounds."

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but best than all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for coughs and colds, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap to make, but it really has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps up perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, apoplemic cough, whooping cough or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effects on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisonous toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerve and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly—adv.

Goldine Helped Me— Sent Some to Mother

Frank E. Senna, Williston, Vt., said: "That Goldine is a good medicine. I want to tell you just what it did. I had been doctoring for stomach trouble for two years before I heard of Goldine and had gotten so bad that I would vomit up my breakfast every morning and even at night I would have to get up and vomit before I could sleep. It was a terrible condition and I did everything I could to get relief. I also had headache, was short of breath and dizzy. I couldn't sleep nights and became very weak."

"When I heard of Goldine I got a bottle and before that was gone the vomiting spells had stopped, my headache and dizziness disappeared and I felt fine. My mother was ill at the time and when I found how good Goldine was, I sent a bottle over to her and asked her to try it."

"It helped her just as it had me and she said she wanted another bottle, so I came up to get it. It is the best medicine I ever saw. It did more for me than all the medicine I had taken before. I am telling all my friends at Williston about the medicine and sending them for it."

"Mother can't say enough in its praise, for Goldine has given her more relief than she has had in months and I am glad for her sake and mine that I found out how good it is."
